

THE ONLY LIBERAL PAPER IN A CITY OF 100,000--A LIVE TOWN

HOME RULE QUESTION SECRETLY SETTLED

Unionist Official Claims Ulster Trouble is Given Its Quietus.

Said to be on Basis of Sir Edward Grey's Recent Offer.

By Times Special Wire.)

April 6.—"We believe that the home rule question, so far as present Parliament is concerned, has been settled behind our backs," said a prominent member of the Ulster Unionists to one of the organizers of the Ulster remonstrance at Hyde Park,

London, on Saturday, by the London Mirror, and cabled to the Monday Daily Mail.

The Mirror adds that remarkable news in circulation, namely,

that David Lloyd George and others rendering an agreement between the front bench leaders that the Unionists shall withdraw their opposition to the exclusion of Ulster for six years, on condition that the Government undertakes a large and comprehensive Federal scheme, and that, therefore, there will be no general election in Ulster. There is no confirmation of this story, and it is doubtful in the best informed circles.

The London Daily Mail this morning

gives added interest to the rumors regarding the situation by publishing a statement from Sir Edward Grey, who will hold a conference with the Unionist members from Ulster before speaking to-day, and by excluding from the operation of the Home Rule Bill until the Federal

(Continued on Page 9.)

ITALIAN WANTS TO BE ROAD SUPERINTENDENT

Would Take Job at $1,200

And Supply County With Cheap Labor.

Angelo Cancello, an Italian, has applied to the county of Wentworth for the position of road superintendent in succession to J. J. Taylor. His application was received to-day along with a number of others, and it caused quite a stir. The Italian, who is said to have received word that the Italian Americans have nearly lost control of him, but this was the first to arrive from a foreigner, and naturally, coming from an Italian, it was regarded as quite a curiosity. Angelo stated his qualifications, offered to take the job at $1,200, and also informed the county that he had been engaged in foreign labor very cheaply, largely declared in his application that he had lived in Hamilton two years, but before then he had been in Brooklyn, and had worked on the roads in that city as well as in Hamilton, and had worked on the roads in that city as well as in Hamilton. He also declares that he is a native of Italy, and that he would come to Canada for chartered roads, and that he would charge the county the same rate as he did in Italy. The probability that such an investigation as this would be made, and that the authorities would call in the services of the coroner, built these great expectations.

Thomas A. Cox, the well known horse, sheep and swine breeder, passed away on Friday at the age of 70 years, from Bright's disease, from Brampton. His reputation as an exhibitor and breeder was international, as he had won many prizes in New York, London and Chicago. In Canada his prizes were won at Charlottetown, and he had carried off the highest honors as well as Vancouver. Mr. Cox was born in the little village of St. John's, removed to Guelph, and later to Brampton about twenty-six years ago. In position he was a liberal, and always a student and willing worker.

THOS. A. COX DEAD

Was a Well Known Breeder of Horses.

Thomas A. Cox, the well known horse, sheep and swine breeder, passed away on Friday at the age of 70 years, from Bright's disease, from Brampton. His reputation as an exhibitor and breeder was international, as he had won many prizes in New York, London and Chicago. In Canada his prizes were won at Charlottetown, and he had carried off the highest honors as well as Vancouver. Mr. Cox was born in the little village of St. John's, removed to Guelph, and later to Brampton about twenty-six years ago. In position he was a liberal, and always a student and willing worker.

ICE STILL THICK

Macassa Likely to Start Before Week is Over.

From present indications the ice will not have cleared from the bay for some days, and until it does the Macassa will not make the trip from Toronto. The shifting of the wind carried the ice to the west and south shore of the lake, and yesterday the north shore wind took it back to the north shore. The Macassa has steamed up, and is prepared to leave at the earliest opportunity.

The Burlington City was the first boat to enter the Toronto harbor, and yesterday Captain Macdonald was enabled to get a new sail. It is expected that the navigation season for 1914 will be opened hereabouts.

PALM SUNDAY

Observed in Many Churches in the City.

Yesterday was Palm Sunday, and in all the Roman Catholic churches there were special services in connection with the observance of this day, which commemorates the entry of Christ into Jerusalem immediately preceding His crucifixion. Palm Sunday is the day when people go to holy wells, and mass meetings are held with special services for the young. Special music was also rendered in many churches, the favorite Palm Sunday hymn being "Palm Sunday," by Keane, being the most popular.

In the Roman Catholic churches the Mass was celebrated at 10:30 a.m., being the chief connection with the service.

With the exception of the Mass, the services were distributed among those attending the services and were to be seen being worn by large numbers of people in the streets.

At St. Patrick's Church the solemn high mass was sung by Rev. Dean Craven, assisted by Rev. Fathers Flahavan and McSweeney. Mass was also sung at 7:30 a.m. and 9 a.m. ***

GAEIC LEAGUE'S EXHIBIT.

(By Times Special Wire.)

New York—The delegates from the Gaelic League of Ireland arrived yesterday with a large exhibit of Irish arts and crafts, with hand woven fabrics, and

Lock Finn herring, steak

and shredded codfish, Bermuda onions,

King oranges and the usual splendid array of souvenirs and vegetables.

Your early order will be appreciated.

A. G. Bain & Co.

Our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the word Christ—1 Tim. 1. 1.

REV. J. J. CRAVEN,

Former Popular Hamilton Priest, who returns as rector of St. Patrick's and Dean of Wentworth and Halton.

BAD FOR CHINESE

Is Murder of Vancouver Women by Yellow Servant

May Mean Lost Jobs for Many Orientals.

(By Times Special Wire.)

Vancouver, B. C., April 6.—While the agitation against the employment of Chinese as domestic servants following the recent murder of a Chinese woman in a house, did not assume definite form, it will not be surprised to find that the Chinese will be wholly excluded from the market.

This was the opinion of a citizen of Vancouver, who, while he is not a Chinaman, nevertheless feels that the Chinese will be entirely屏除 (excluded)

from the market.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

of the recent killing of a Chinese

woman in a house in Vancouver.

He said that he had heard

Hamilton Times Patterns

AN APPROPRIATE COSTUME FOR DRESSY OR GENERAL OCCASIONS

9811—Lady's winter pattern skirt and blouse. Pattern 871 designed to produce this stylish effect.—As shown in the large view the blouse may be worn over a skirt. The skirt may be finished in raised or normal waistline and has simple belt over a vest.
The vest is topped by a chemiselet which could be omitted for even wearer of dressy shoulder, either in wrist or elbow length. For dressy occasions this model may be nicely finished in chiffon taffeta or in hemstitch, combined with brocaded silk for the vest, satin or organza lining, and a fine and costly finish, net or lace for the chemiselet. For general wear, serge, voile, lawn, or gingham will look attractive, either with contrasting material or embroidery for trimming. The Waist pattern is $1.00, size 22, 24, 26, 28,
and 30 inches waist. The skirt in 5 sizes, 22, 24, 26, 28, and 30 inches waist. The blouse
is $1.00, size 22, 24, 26, 28, and 30 inches waist. The vest is of a medium size for the entire costume.

This illustration calls for two separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10c for each pattern in silver or stamps.

To assure pattern, fill out this blank (write plainly) Enclose with your order. Pattern Department, The Hamilton Times, Hamilton, Ont.

It will take several days before you get pattern.

No.	Size
Name
Street and No.
City

Robbed of Her Name

CHAPTER VII. Iris' worst enemy could not, with anyone have called her sentimental.
She was by the score, but she had never bestowed a thought upon them; even Clarence Montague the handsome, who had been so devotedly attached to her, was a first-rate rascal. Iris confessed, she could ride and swim, and knew more about books than ninety-nine out of a hundred of her sex.

In other words, she was a clever-as-well as a beautiful-girl, and clever girls are not sentimental.

"Iris, you do not see the remembrance of her adventure with the bully in the Holt fields out of her head.
All the morning, while I was at my card-table, listening to the conversation between Lord Covendale and his lawyer, Iris was thinking of the handsome, rascally, bully she had seen the previous day. She tried not to think of him, to efface the whole business from her mind, but the effort was徒劳.

There was some excuse for thinking of him, for, after all, young ladies are not always as wise as they are every day of the week. But he haunted Iris in a way she could not understand, and in a fashion that annoyed her.

She found herself recalling even the features of his face, the golden hair, the dark eyes, the tone of his voice, and the sharp laugh which had accompanied some of his speech.

Once, when she met him, she went to the writing table, and, unlocking a drawer, took out the scarf she had ridden back for. It was a plain cashmere, but it seemed to possess a strange value in her eyes, for, though she determined to throw it away, she was tempted to keep it in the drawer, by replacing the scarf in the drawer, and locking it away again carefully, as if it were a treasure or a relic.

It was certainly the first thing belonging to a man she had ever seen that she had ever given her confidence, in the fond hope that she might preserve them, and she had thrown them aside, and locked them up in the drawer.

"Oh, is it you?" he said, and his face cleared of the frown which had been cast upon him by the strange visitor.

"Yes, dear," she said. "Did you think I was going to be Signor Ric-cardo? What is it?"

"Will you come with me for a ride, father?" she asked.

"Not this morning, dear," he said.
"I am busy."

"Will you not? It is such a lovely afternoon."

He shook his head.

"Oh, I am sorry, I cannot. I have a great deal to do this afternoon."

"Do you enjoy yourself, and he touched her cheek with his hand caressingly.

She bent forward and kissed his hand, and then, rising from the floor into the room, she heard him lock the door after him. It struck her at the time as though he had been a stranger to her.

"Is he a stranger?" she asked, and he had locked the door, and why?

All the afternoon it was hard to efface the after-taste from her mind, as she sang and played, but his voice, his "acc", floated between them, and the music, and lassitudine themselves, in the memory.

So thoroughly did the memory of the young man she had saved above her, and the mystery of the strange visitor, Signor Ricardo, she did write to her friends the Deverells, but it was with the handsomest eyes of the stranger yet between her and the note paper and confused her.

"Is the signor not well?" she said once, as Iris lay back in a specially luxurious chair, and with hands clasped before her. Iris had started and sobered family as she replied:

"She asked herself, this question as she rode out of the lodges gates with a strange feeling of uneasiness; but the

DMCKAY-CO 55 to 63 King St. East DMCKAY-CO

Slightly Water-Damaged and Uninjured MERCHANDISE FOR EASTER NEEDS

Millinery WITH A REPUTATION

That "reputation" is the grandest force in modern business, and it is well demonstrated by the number of old and satisfied customers that visit our new millinery store at 67 King street east.

Better than this from our point of view is the fact that almost every visitor decides in favor of a "McKay" creation.

There is individuality without crudeness and vulgarity in a "McKay" Hat and this is only possible from the fingers of expert milliners.

Choice Model Copies $4.98

A special feature all this week will be the showing of perfect copies and adaptations from beautiful French and New York Model Hats. Of particular interest each day will be a group of regular $10.00 styles, selling at . . .

$4.98

Renew Your Curtains BY TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THIS GREAT CLEARANCE TO-MORROW

Are you one of the many wise women who have taken full advantage of this clearing sale? Don't delay longer, for to-morrow will reveal the greatest saving opportunity you'll have for many a Spring. Beautiful Curtains that were only very slightly wet or not at all, are to be cleared in a tremendous hurry. Here are a few of the lines being offered.

NOTTINGHAM LACE CURTAINS—A tremendous shipment of good quality Curtains that had been removed from their original cases at the time of the fire.
Only a few at the top and bottom of each case got wet,
the larger number are perfect. Nice Stripe, Lattice, Fillet Net, Diamond, Block, Wheel and Floral effects; White, Cream and Ecru. Fried as follows to-morrow at 9 a.m.

Regular 85¢ Curtains for 40¢ pair
Regular $1.00 Curtains for 70¢ pair
Regular $1.25 Curtains for 90¢ pair
Regular $1.50 Curtains for 90¢ pair
Regular $1.75 Curtains $1.10 pair
Regular $2.00 Curtains $1.20 pair
Regular $2.50 Curtains $1.45 pair

See the Windows This Evening at Our Annex
67 KING STREET EAST

'PHONE
5000

DMCKAY-CO
HAMILTON DRUGGISTS STORE

'PHONE 5000 afternoon was, as she had said, lovely, but the sun shone brightly. It was in the month of July, and Snow was in such excellent spirits that her mind was too occupied with keeping him company and listening to the song of the birds to ponder over the question for long.

Reaching the health pull up for a second to decide in what direction
she would go, and turned to Snow, head in the opposite way to that which she had taken yesterday; but after a few years she had turned up again with the same color and the same smile, and with the Holt, although when she had started she had firmly resolved to go nowhere else, now anywhere near the scene of her adventure.

Arrived at the field in which she had fought the bull she rode up to the hedge and looked over. Her eyes met those of a boy, who was riding a horse, and smiling at her. She had not seen him since she had arrived at the Holt.

"Why did you come?" she asked,
and could have bitten her tongue out
the next moment for having done so.
Her face, however, was pale and drooped suddenly; then it looked up as he replied:

"I came after a beginning of mine. I kept the color out of her face, and was even guilty of looking round
as if he had the lost art of lost love.

"A scoundrel!"

"Yes, it wasn't a very valuable one,"

he said, with a laugh, "but, acting on
what you have asked me not to, not
I thought I would come and see what
had become of it."

"And you have not found it?"

"No," he said; "but the temptation to ask who you were."

The color flooded her face; then left
it in its ordinary warm, ivory white-

"You see," he went on in a low voice, "when you had refused to tell
me who you were, I had been so
scarcely honorable to leave it to you.
Iris had almost said, 'I do not wish
to tell you who I am,' but I could do it in return for saying my life was
to obey your royal wishes."

He had the bold hands of her riding
whip minute.

"Was I not right?" he said.

"You have asked me not one?" she
said, with a faint smile.

"I have asked no one," he replied,
slowly and earnestly, "and I will ask no
one. Until you choose to tell me what you are, I will not be able to do it," he said, "but—I am not content."

"You have met again," replied Iris,
with a faint smile, "but I don't think
this has much to do with it; this is a favorite ride of mine."

He had been thinking of myself when I spoke of fate," he said, gravely. "This morning I had no idea of coming here."

Iris kept the color out of her face, and
was even guilty of looking round
as if he had the lost art of lost love.

"A scoundrel!"

"Yes, it was not a very valuable one,"

he said, with a laugh, "but, acting on
what you have asked me not to, not

I thought I would come and see what
had become of it."

"And you have not found it?"

"No," he said; "but the temptation to
ask who you were."

The color flooded her face; then left
it in its ordinary warm, ivory white-

"You see," he went on in a low
voice, "when you had refused to tell
me who you were, I had been so
scarcely honorable to leave it to you.
Iris had almost said, 'I do not wish
to tell you who I am,' but I could do
it in return for saying my life was
to obey your royal wishes."

He had the bold hands of her riding
whip minute.

"Was I not right?" he said.

"You have asked me not one?" she
said, with a faint smile.

"I have asked no one," he replied,
slowly and earnestly, "and I will ask no
one. Until you choose to tell me
what you are, I will not be able to do it," he said, "but—I am not
content."

"You have met again," replied Iris,
with a faint smile, "but I don't think
this has much to do with it; this is a
favorite ride of mine."

He had been thinking of myself when I
spoke of fate," he said, gravely. "This
morning I had no idea of coming here."

Iris kept the color out of her face, and
was even guilty of looking round
as if he had the lost art of lost love.

"A scoundrel!"

"Yes, it was not a very valuable one,"

he said, with a laugh, "but, acting on
what you have asked me not to, not

I thought I would come and see what
had become of it."

"And you have not found it?"

"No," he said; "but the temptation to
ask who you were."

The color flooded her face; then left
it in its ordinary warm, ivory white-

"You see," he went on in a low
voice, "when you had refused to tell
me who you were, I had been so
scarcely honorable to leave it to you.
Iris had almost said, 'I do not wish
to tell you who I am,' but I could do
it in return for saying my life was
to obey your royal wishes."

He had the bold hands of her riding
whip minute.

"Was I not right?" he said.

"You have asked me not one?" she
said, with a faint smile.

"I have asked no one," he replied,
slowly and earnestly, "and I will ask no
one. Until you choose to tell me
what you are, I will not be able to do it," he said, "but—I am not
content."

"You have met again," replied Iris,
with a faint smile, "but I don't think
this has much to do with it; this is a
favorite ride of mine."

He had been thinking of myself when I
spoke of fate," he said, gravely. "This
morning I had no idea of coming here."

Iris kept the color out of her face, and
was even guilty of looking round
as if he had the lost art of lost love.

"A scoundrel!"

"Yes, it was not a very valuable one,"

he said, with a laugh, "but, acting on
what you have asked me not to, not

I thought I would come and see what
had become of it."

"And you have not found it?"

"No," he said; "but the temptation to
ask who you were."

The color flooded her face; then left
it in its ordinary warm, ivory white-

"You see," he went on in a low
voice, "when you had refused to tell
me who you were, I had been so
scarcely honorable to leave it to you.
Iris had almost said, 'I do not wish
to tell you who I am,' but I could do
it in return for saying my life was
to obey your royal wishes."

He had the bold hands of her riding
whip minute.

"Was I not right?" he said.

"You have asked me not one?" she
said, with a faint smile.

"I have asked no one," he replied,
slowly and earnestly, "and I will ask no
one. Until you choose to tell me
what you are, I will not be able to do it," he said, "but—I am not
content."

"You have met again," replied Iris,
with a faint smile, "but I don't think
this has much to do with it; this is a
favorite ride of mine."

He had been thinking of myself when I
spoke of fate," he said, gravely. "This
morning I had no idea of coming here."

Iris kept the color out of her face, and
was even guilty of looking round
as if he had the lost art of lost love.

"A scoundrel!"

"Yes, it was not a very valuable one,"

he said, with a laugh, "but, acting on
what you have asked me not to, not

I thought I would come and see what
had become of it."

"And you have not found it?"

"No," he said; "but the temptation to
ask who you were."

The color flooded her face; then left
it in its ordinary warm, ivory white-

"You see," he went on in a low
voice, "when you had refused to tell
me who you were, I had been so
scarcely honorable to leave it to you.
Iris had almost said, 'I do not wish
to tell you who I am,' but I could do
it in return for saying my life was
to obey your royal wishes."

He had the bold hands of her riding
whip minute.

"Was I not right?" he said.

"You have asked me not one?" she
said, with a faint smile.

"I have asked no one," he replied,
slowly and earnestly, "and I will ask no
one. Until you choose to tell me
what you are, I will not be able to do it," he said, "but—I am not
content."

"You have met again," replied Iris,
with a faint smile, "but I don't think
this has much to do with it; this is a
favorite ride of mine."

He had been thinking of myself when I
spoke of fate," he said, gravely. "This
morning I had no idea of coming here."

Iris kept the color out of her face, and
was even guilty of looking round
as if he had the lost art of lost love.

"A scoundrel!"

"Yes, it was not a very valuable one,"

he said, with a laugh, "but, acting on
what you have asked me not to, not

I thought I would come and see what
had become of it."

"And you have not found it?"

"No," he said; "but the temptation to
ask who you were."

The color flooded her face; then left
it in its ordinary warm, ivory white-

"You see," he went on in a low
voice, "when you had refused to tell
me who you were, I had been so
scarcely honorable to leave it to you.
Iris had almost said, 'I do not wish
to tell you who I am,' but I could do
it in return for saying my life was
to obey your royal wishes."

He had the bold hands of her riding
whip minute.

"Was I not right?" he said.

"You have asked me not one?" she
said, with a faint smile.

"I have asked no one," he replied,
slowly and earnestly, "and I will ask no
one. Until you choose to tell me
what you are, I will not be able to do it," he said, "but—I am not
content."

"You have met again," replied Iris,
with a faint smile, "but I don't think
this has much to do with it; this is a
favorite ride of mine."

He had been thinking of myself when I
spoke of fate," he said, gravely. "This
morning I had no idea of coming here."

Iris kept the color out of her face, and
was even guilty of looking round
as if he had the lost art of lost love.

"A scoundrel!"

"Yes, it was not a very valuable one,"

he said, with a laugh, "but, acting on
what you have asked me not to, not

I thought I would come and see what
had become of it."

"And you have not found it?"

"No," he said; "but the temptation to
ask who you were."

The color flooded her face; then left
it in its ordinary warm, ivory white-

"You see," he went on in a low
voice, "when you had refused to tell
me who you were, I had been so
scarcely honorable to leave it to you.
Iris had almost said, 'I do not wish
to tell you who I am,' but I could do
it in return for saying my life was
to obey your royal wishes."

He had the bold hands of her riding
whip minute.

"Was I not right?" he said.

"You have asked me not one?" she
said, with a faint smile.

"I have asked no one," he replied,
slowly and earnestly, "and I will ask no
one. Until you choose to tell me
what you are, I will not be able to do it," he said, "but—I am not
content."

"You have met again," replied Iris,
with a faint smile, "but I don't think
this has much to do with it; this is a
favorite ride of mine."

He had been thinking of myself when I
spoke of fate," he said, gravely. "This
morning I had no idea of coming here."

Iris kept the color out of her face, and
was even guilty of looking round
as if he had the lost art of lost love.

"A scoundrel!"

"Yes, it was not a very valuable one,"

he said, with a laugh, "but, acting on
what you have asked me not to, not

I thought I would come and see what
had become of it."

"And you have not found it?"

"No," he said; "but the temptation to
ask who you were."

The color flooded her face; then left
it in its ordinary warm, ivory white-

"You see," he went on in a low
voice, "when you had refused to tell
me who you were, I had been so
scarcely honorable to leave it to you.
Iris had almost said, 'I do not wish
to tell you who I am,' but I could do
it in return for saying my life was
to obey your royal wishes."

He had the bold hands of her riding
whip minute.

"Was I not right?" he said.

"You have asked me not one?" she
said, with a faint smile.

"I have asked no one," he replied,
slowly and earnestly, "and I will ask no
one. Until you choose to tell me
what you are, I will not be able to do it," he said, "but—I am not
content."

"You have met again," replied Iris,
with a faint smile, "but I don't think
this has much to do with it; this is a
favorite ride of mine."

He had been thinking of myself when I
spoke of fate," he said, gravely. "This
morning I had no idea of coming here."

Iris kept the color out of her face, and
was even guilty of looking round
as if he had the lost art of lost love.

"A scoundrel!"

"Yes, it was not a very valuable one,"

he said, with a laugh, "but, acting on
what you have asked me not to, not

I thought I would come and see what
had become of it."

THE HAMILTON TIMES

PUBLISHED BY—

THE TIMES PRINTING CO., LIMITED

Corner King William and King Street.

Business Telephone 365; Editorial 365.

Founded 1837, and published continuously since 1837 under the name of the Times.

MONDAY, APRIL 6, 1914.

THAT CITY HALL ROBBERY.

A week ago last Saturday, Mayor Allan, who happened to be in the City Hall late in the afternoon, when he might have been at home, was suddenly startled by a sound. A lid was stealthily lifted from a large box of papers which belonged to the city. Instead of grappling with him as he should, the Mayor sternly asked him what he was doing with these papers. Thus caught in the act, the alderman, according to the Mayor, pleaded that he had permission from one of the clerks to take them away. The Mayor was not satisfied with this excuse, but it seemed to meet the point. Ald. Robson, however, has neither admission of taking away the papers. He even watched him while he deposited them in the automobile belonging to his accomplice or confederate, none other than Ald. Dr. Davey. And these papers have not been seen since. Why Mayor Allan allowed these thieving robbers to escape is what still puzzles himself and the police. The telephone was at hand to summon the Chief, and the City Hall bell could have been rung to summon the police. But the safety of the two aldermen, who were clearly recognized by the Mayor, he had a good look at them, was such as to paralyze His Worship.

Ald. Robson is Chairman of the Investigating Committee that is trying to find out what a city job costs after it is completed. The missing papers may give the committee a clue as to some of these costs. In Saturday's Times it was said that the Mayor's signature, related that since the end of January they had been trying to have verified the amount charged for crushed stone and gravel for a certain job, but up to Saturday had been unable to get the verification. Now here is something definite that Mayor Allan and Controller Cooper might grapple with. Why should the committee keep out of this information? Is it not entitled to get these things verified? Or are they to make a demand to give it to us? Is that fair? The Mayor might find that out in the meantime, while he is waiting for Ald. Walter's alleged exposure. If Ald. Robson is correct in this statement of his, there must be room for investigation. What is this we hear about rubber boots being charged up to a cement sidewalk? That is another matter the Mayor and Controller might look into.

If Ald. Robson made a mistake, which he had, that statement published on Saturday, and if it be true that gully drains, street crossings and rubber boots were charged up with cement sidewalks, the city officials may expect to meet with criticism.

ASQUITH AT LADBROOK.

Premier Asquith's address to his East Fife constituents was anything but a provocative one. It was a very plain, unvarnished statement of the condition of affairs, couched in moderate language. He indulged in no fireworks or hysterics. He did not make any of those mild attacks upon his opponents. Whatever opinion people may have on the question of home rule, and the Times is well disposed to it, he has nothing but contempt for the army. He declared that he had every confidence that the army can be counted upon, from the highest to the lowest, to undertake the duty which it may be required to discharge, he also declared that it was not to become a political instrument, as it had no place and no voice in framing the policy of the country or moulding its laws. Bonar Law and those of this school, however, do not share the Premier's confidence in this matter. They insist that the army has the right to judge the policy of the Government or Parliament, and if the policy is not to its liking it has a perfect right to refuse to obey the mandates of constituted authority. Of course, as the Premier pointed out, this would lead to anarchy pure and simple. For if the army was to take over to exercise the power of government and say whether or not it would approve of it or obey it, then other bodies could do the same. The labor organizations, for instance, could set themselves above the constituted authorities and do as they chose.

Premier Asquith hopes for a peaceful settlement—peace with honor. He showed that the by-elections with one exception showed that the country was in favor of home rule, and he put in a few words to support Liberalism at this juncture in the country's history.

While we do not condemn the Bonar Government for supporting The Menace, even the Canadian edition, the use of the mails, we wonder how the Orange men will like it. As we said before, there are others.

PLAYING POOL.

Whatever is for the betterment and uplift of Hamilton the Times favors. We are not so much interested in the sports side of a question. But there are questions that have no immoral side. Sometimes it is a thing of abuse, not in the use of a thing, where the evils lie. We submit that pool rooms or playing pool is to be found in this category. We do not suppose that any of the clergymen of the city would go so far as to say that playing pool is immoral or that it should not be as with cards. The bad comes in when pool is played to excess or in undesirable surroundings. Consequently we regret that the proposed establishment of a pool room in the east end of the city should have given rise to such an acrimonious discussion. The ministers, no doubt, believe that a pool room is an undesirable thing to have down there and that it is their duty to oppose it. But we are sorry that so much time has been devoted to this. Solder has his views on the matter, and attacking him for the stand he has taken is not a very good way to induce him to reconsider his position.

We are all anxious to see the east end, with its large foreign population, keep morally clean. But there is moderation in everything. If a pool room is all right in town, can it be all wrong down there? To be consistent, we should have a swimming pool in the west end, all over the city. For no doubt young men from the east and frequent the uptown rooms. Under proper regulations, and if necessary police surveillance, we believe that a pool room might be run down east without being a menace to the community. Young men cannot stay in the houses all the time. If it is right that we have a swimming pool, then let us have one all over the city. Fortunately, names are not causes. You can talk any word to death; but if it means something, it is good. And it does not mean that we have to give up our old names. This is the case with many of our own names. Personally, we would prefer that they spend their evenings in some more profitable way. Public ownership might be a good thing for pool rooms, where the element of gain would be removed from the business. At any rate they should be so conducted that no man would be permitted to hang around the place more than he might legitimately do.

ELECTION COMING SOON.

There is every sign that the provincial elections will hold some time this year. The Redistribution Bill is on the way, and other preparations are being made. The Government is making an early election. The Tory party wishes to go to the Province with Sir James Whitney holds the reins of office, it believing that his name is one to conjure with. The party also thinks that after the passage of the Workmen's Act will be a good time to appeal to the people, especially forgotten that had it not been for the pressure of the workmen, the Government would not have such an act passed. It will not now before the House. In any event the elections cannot be long delayed, and it behoves the Liberals of the Province to get ready for the battle. In Hamilton the Liberals will be expected pretty soon to prepare for an early election. It is generally believed that Col. Hendrie will be the candidate in West Hamilton, notwithstanding the scare-head announcement in a local contemporary that he was to retire at the end of the session. Mr. Hendrie, we believe, is tired of sitting around up in Queen's Park. But he will go to the polls at the next election, and we are very much inclined to believe that he will be elected. And he will not have a walkover. The Liberals are prepared to put up a man who, they are satisfied, can beat Mr. Hendrie, a man who will go whole heartedly into the fight to win, and who is confident that he will win. He is a man of ability, knows the ward thoroughly and knows the feeling of the electors on the subject, and he will make an admirable representative.

RECIPROCITY IN MOTOR FEES.

Ontario and Ontario motorists stand to benefit greatly by reciprocity in motor license fees. It is agreed that the Ontario Government has not, which means that Ontario motorists pay to the United States Government annually $20,000, and in return the Ontario Government gets only the few license fees which the United States car owners pay for the privilege of motoring in Ontario. Nor is that the worst feature of the Ontario Government's conduct. The Ontario motorists would come to the United States with the result that he cannot pay sufficient wages to induce enough men to go to work, and it is difficult to get a sufficient number of drivers to do the work.

WOULD OUST THE MIDDLEMAN.

(Montreal Herald-Telegraph.)

At the present time there is between the Ontario and the provinces a go-between whom work represents nothing more valuable to produce than digging a hole and filling it up again. The result is that the price of the final price obtained for the product, and because of the fact that the cost of the middleman is high, it is difficult to get a sufficient number of drivers to do the work.

THE UNIONISTS' BLUNDER.

(Montreal Star.)

Nothing more important than the Unionists' proposal that they will not oppose Premier Asquith's re-election if he does not "break out on the arm

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Well, that was a tidy little speech Premier Asquith delivered at Ladybank on Saturday.

Ald. Thomas Wright admits that he will not refuse a $200 aldermanic salary if he is tendered to him. We thought not.

The brutal murder of a Vancouver woman by her Chinese boy help will not make these domestic servants any more popular on the coast.

When Mr. White delivers his budget speech we expect to be faced to face with a falling revenue and a rising expenditure. He will also have to record an increase in the national debt.

The whole question will be threshed out before the Board of Control tomorrow morning. In the meantime the city hall people say that they have given Ald. Robson all the papers he asked for.

We publish in another column an article from the Toronto Globe exposing the contemptible tactics adopted by the Tories in the Legislature to defeat Dr. McQuiggan's amendment.

The attack on North Wentworth's member has increased and many of the better class of Tories.

The citizens generally are pleased to see the Craven boys back to work, and to know that he has received well-merited promotion at the hands of his Bishop. Father Craven returns to assume the duties of rector of the Catholic Church and of Dean of the Diocese, both of which offices he is eminently qualified to fill.

Eight women candidates will fight for supremacy in the Chicago municipal elections to-morrow. They have not plucked out the soft spots either, some of them contesting the worst words in the city. Miss Drake is giving the notorious Bathhouse John quite a run for his money.

The Kingston Whig wants to know that in thunder is Dr. Roberts that he sets his opinions up against the opinions of all those experts?" Well, if you want to know, Dr. Roberts is Hamilton's Medical Health Officer, and doesn't care who knows it. The doctor is all over the city.

For our own part, we have fallen by the wayside.

MALICIOUS ATTACK ON DR. MCQUEEN.

(Toronto Globe.)

The member for North Wentworth in the Legislative Assembly has drawn himself the title of Minister of Malice in the Legislative Assembly.

He has a most vicious attitude on the temporary question and that is that the doctor has gone forth that it is absolutely necessary, at whatever sacrifice of self-respect on the part of his opponents, that he must be defeated.

They know it is useless to try another weapon.

A motion by Dr. McQueen for powers to regulate the sale of liquor under the liquor law at Kenora aroused the ire of the member for the district of the same name, and as an offshoot of this, the member for North Wentworth Mr. MacInnis produced certain orders for alcoholic liquors issued six years ago.

It is clear that this is a perversion of his ordinary medical practice. One of these was for whiskey to administer with the purpose of preventing delirium tremens; another was for malt liquor to be used for an invalid, authorized at one time being issued to obviate the necessity of the patient travelling many miles repeatedly to get a prescription.

It is perfectly clear that these technical violations of the letter of the law were not the purpose of the physician in issuing them, but the real purpose of the doctor was to prevent delirium tremens; another was for malt liquor to be used for an invalid, authorized at one time being issued to obviate the necessity of the patient travelling many miles repeatedly to get a prescription.

The intention was, of course, to destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to

destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth.

He has, however, succeeded in getting the Conservative in the Legislative and the representatives of the labor traffic in the Province to do the same.

Business masters of importance,

including the members of the

Kenora Club, are in agreement.

They are not worried by the big "trotter" show in the great metropolis.

The intention was, of course, to destroy the political usefulness of the member

A.M. Souter & Co.

GOOD CARPETS FOR LITTLE MONEY

If you expect to buy Carpets this Spring, you will find it to your advantage to see this special lot of Axminster and Brussels Carpets that are being cleared out at very special prices.

Axminster Carpets

Regular Prices $1.65, $1.85 and $2.50 per yard

The patterns are in the favorite colorings, blue, green, fawn and Oriental shades, some with borders. These are marked during this sale according to quality at $1.00, $1.15 and $1.25 per yard

Brussels Carpets

Regular prices $1.25 and $1.50

Splendid patterns in colors of blue, green, fawn, rose and red. All with borders to match. Selling, per yard, at 78¢ and 98¢

This is in every case a price below the present price at the mills.

Handsome Rugs Reduced

Some of them are last season's patterns, to be sure, but what does that matter? A fine choice and every one going to be moved out by pruning of the price. Here are a few suggestions of the Rugs and Prices.

Axminster Rugs—9 ft. x 12 ft., in green, blue and rose, Persian pattern, heavy deep pile. Regular price $55; on sale at $36.00

Wilton Rugs—9 ft. x 12 ft., small Persian pattern with fawn color predominating. Regular price $35; on sale at $22.00

Axminster Rugs—9 ft. x 12 ft., fawn Persian pattern; regular price $37; on sale at $26.00

Wilton Rugs—9 ft. x 10 ft. 6 in., green, square block pattern. Regular price $27; on sale at $19.00

Axminster Rugs—9 ft. x 10 ft. 6 in., Persian fawn medallion pattern. Regular price $33; on sale at $22.00

Axminster Rugs—9 ft. x 10 ft. 6 in., crimson Turkey pattern. Regular price $35; on sale at $22.50

English Velvet Rugs—9 ft. x 12 ft., green centre, with pretty chintz border. Regular price $23; on sale at $17.85

Axminster Rugs—9 ft. x 10 ft. 6 in.; Persian pattern. Regular price $35; on sale at $23.00

Axminster Rugs—9 ft. x 10 ft. 6 in., Persian pattern. Regular price $35; on sale at $23.00

Axminster Rugs—9 ft. x 10 ft. 6 in., Persian pattern. Regular price $35; on sale at $23.00

Cor. King & Park Sts.

LONG JOURNEY

A Minister Travels 1,300 Miles to Presbytery.

CAMP REUNION

The Y.M.C.A. Boys Had a Happy Gathering.

TO AVENGE BENTON

Major Fierro, of Villa's Staff, to be Executed.

There are few Presbyterian ministers in Canada who travel over long distances who have to travel thirteen hundred miles from their headquarters to attend a presbytery meeting. Such is the duty, however, of Mr. C. M. Wright, a Presbyterian missionary of Prince George, who has to journey to Vancouver for his presbytery meetings. Mr. Wright goes first east over the Great Trunk Pacific Railway to Prince George, he might have gone by the old route from Prince George to Ashcroft, but he has chosen the easier and harder way of cross-country travel in the early spring, even though he is compelled to cover thirteen hundred miles in the process.

Mr. Wright is enthusiastic about the prospects along the Grand Trunk Pacific, and has written to the Great Trunk Pacific to Prince George, "We have had the cost of living considerably, and the prices of staple commodities are now much higher than they are in Edmonton, Peter, which in the spring, can only be obtained in Peter. The former we could not obtain at all can now be obtained at reasonable prices."

"The worthy of note, concerning Mr. Wright, is that he is a good class of people. There are problems to be faced, as in all pioneer days, and the difficulties and trials the people as a whole are taking root there. There are people there who are classes and from every angle, who are doing well, and are doing well. These are the people who are willing to work hard, and wait for the good time coming. The man who succeeds in this is the man who succeeds."

"Doctor, do you ever give up a patient when he is very ill?" "Not if he is able to give up himself," replied the doctor.

"I would keep Sunday." "If he ever gets hold of me."

Juarez, April 5.—Major Rudolfo, General Villa's staff, is to be executed as the result of an investigation by a commission appointed by General Carranza into the killing of S. Benton, the Scotman, on Feb. 17.

This was announced here to-day, together with the statement that the report of the commission's finding is practically complete.

Major Fierro is now in the custody of the military authorities, and the most skeptical were persuaded that a Y.M.C.A. camp was an essential part of his rank and file held by General Villa's orders.

The boys' camp met at the close of the reunion and passed a resolution of censure, to which the consideration of the board, which will meet Thursday of this week.

Kearns' address was received with interest by all that was present, as he is the most skeptical, and the most skeptical were persuaded that a Y.M.C.A. camp was an essential part of his rank and file held by General Villa's orders.

The report of the Y.M.C.A. Commission will show that Major Benton was killed in Juarez Villa's office in Juarez Villa's office to place him under arrest and to prevent his escape, and that he was shot, right and plain, in the penitentiary.

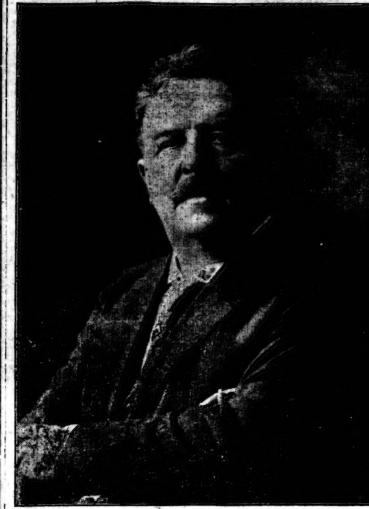

Fierro and a squad of soldiers left the train with that night. A short distance south of Juarez the testimony states, Fierro shot Benton in the head, and the dying man removed, and then the bullet hit his breast. Benton's body was then buried in a shallow grave at Samayalaya.

SURGONS TO CONFER.

New York, April 6.—Surgeons will pay a tribute to their American brethren on Monday next, when the International Society of Surgeons meets in this city. This will be the fourth consecutive year that the annual meeting has been held outside of the city of Brussels since its organization in 1906.

The program is limited to the consideration of three main topics: "Gastric and Duodenal Ulcers," "Grafts and transplants" and "Amputations."

"Doctor, do you ever give up a patient when he is very ill?" "Not if he is able to give up himself," replied the doctor.

VICTOR HERBERT, FAMOUS COMPOSER OF "SWEETHEARTS," TO BE HEARD AT THE GRAND NEXT THURSDAY AND GOOD FRIDAY.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

The closing recital of the season in Centenary Church by W. H. Green, will be given Saturday afternoon, when a splendid programme will be given before a large number of the congregation. Miss Margaret Prude, one of Hamilton's sweet-voiced sopranos, assisted Mr. Hewlett and rendered several selections very acceptably.

The programme was as follows:

Sonata No. 3—Cello and piano—Mendelssohn—Tranquillo.

Prelude to "Lohengrin"—Ricardo Wagner—Padre Martini—Aria—Conte Uno—Hir (Messiah)—G. F. Handel—Miss Marjorie Pringle—Caprice in B Flat—Alex. Giuliano—Songs—

(a) In Mist wife nine Blame—G. W. Chawick.

(b) The Year at the Spring—A. Beach—Mrs. Marjorie Pringle.

Overture to "Marriage of Figaro"—W. A. Mozart—G. Sarti—Puccini—Schott.

"THE BIRD OF PARADISE."

"The Bird of Paradise," which is to be seen at the Grand to-morrow evening and Wednesday matinee and night, is a picture cut out of life. It is a love romance, full of that human interest which attracts an audience and holds it in its spell to the finish. The scenes held in Hong Kong and the natives of that Pacific island, give this picture a touch of reality and life, which is most interesting. Beautifully staged and well acted, it is a play certainly worth seeing.

"THE TRAFFIC."

The opening curtain and conclusion of "The Traffic" will be seen at the Grand next Saturday, matinee and night, in the naked style of the traffic girls. "The Traffic" tells graphically the plot which encompasses the career of Agnes and reduces her to the lowest depths of degradation and shame—and this largely through her devotion to her invalid sister.

In its words the play is vividly realistic in its delineation and episodes. The cast includes Anna Bryant, John Livingston, Claire Bryant, James Aldred, Lola Belmont, Clifford Thompson, George Miller, Helen Raftery, Joseph Detrick and others.

"TOM MCNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN."

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

Tom McNaughton, who has been as ready to adopt American fun-making as American audiences have been to adopt him, has a dialect that will never be forgotten. Tom McNaughton and Eddie Heiman—if he wanted to forget—and he doesn't. He was born with a soprano of to-day can reach F sharp and can sing seven distinct tones in her renditions of the wonderful bell song in "Lakme." She sings the favorite Scotch song with great effect and others.

McNAUGHTON, COMEDIAN.

ALLIANCE WORK WAS THE THEME

Some of the City Churches Yesterday.

D. W. SNIDER HERE

Also Rev. Mr. Rochester, of the Same Department.

A luculent language, written back of each utterance,
of the Lord's Day Alliance meeting was powerfully persuasive to the congregations of Methodist and Presbyterian churches in the vestries. Those who endorsed the work of the organisation in their offices, in a position to communicate with the numerous questions and situations the speakers called from time to time upon them. They brought home to minds the necessity of ceaseless work, to have one day in seven under constant review, and the urgent and manifold support on the part of the speakers of the day on the subject was Rev. Dr. W. Snider, secretary of the Ontario Alliance. He addressed large gathering at two several churches, Chapel Avenue in the morning and St. George's in the evening, calling all who heard him to unite concretely with the organisation of the Sabbath from the beginning of earthly time, and to conquer the world at its conclusion.
"The Sabbath," he said, "was born out of the spirit of self-restraint and self-control, and would make us necessarily undergo a reversion of type,
a return to the ancestry that had been lost in ages past. The evident, the visitor declared, that without a Lord's day there will be no Sabbath, and he advised
the audience to consider the importance of the Sabbath to the worship of God."

"No worship means no religion, and that can mean nothing else but the end of the world," said Snider.
"We must break down the moral bulwarks of man. You would have a causeless hunt for pleasure, for sensations, for amusement, in ages past. It is evident, the visitor declared, that without a Lord's day there will be no Sabbath, and he advised
the audience to consider the importance of the Sabbath to the worship of God."

The Confessions of a Wife

Hunting a Hat

CHAPTER CXXI:

Talk about the joys of the clause! I'll wager that no man ever had as much fun with a gun in a well-stocked game preserve as a woman does when she is stalking a hat at a spring opening.

Mollie and I went shopping for our spring hats yesterday. I had made up my mind that I wanted a Mollie hat the best time possible and included the hat.

Mother Waverly is well enough to be downtown, and I had Dick bring his mother over her to spend the day with us.

"What shall we do first?" I asked Mollie as we took the car downtown.

"Let's go to the millinery," she said.

"Please, I have a hat," said Mollie.

"I can't afford any of the hats," I said, decided.

"I know it," agreed Mollie. "But we can get a little of all the exceptive modes and ideas, and then if we see
the other we will know how to attack them."

The pretty Irish girl, who spoke

French with a brogue, diplomatically declined and all in madame, soon left. Mollie and I were left alone, and she seemed to think particularly becoming.

"Do you suppose that woman is going to buy that hat?" asked Mollie in consternation as she caught sight of the hat she had chosen.

"I'm afraid she is," I answered.

"Some one ought to tell her it looks terrible on her," retorted Mollie.

"All right, let me do it," I said,

and then we both giggled so loudly that the woman glanced over at us.

"She's too young for her," said Mollie.

"I can't afford any of the hats," I said,

"I know it," agreed Mollie.

"But we can get a little of all the exceptive modes and ideas, and then if we see

the other we will know how

to attack them."

The young woman very obligingly laughed forth a black hat which she had tucked away in a corner of the display case.

"How does your blushing hand on my heart, as I be?"

(To be continued to-morrow)

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

The Profit of Marriage.

"Even when you intend to do your best thing, won't go right," said the Young Married Woman, saying a bit sadly.

"Intending to add up a column of figures doesn't make them right if you don't know how," observed Grandmother.

The Young Married Woman's eyes met Grandmother's with a astonished look.

"What has adding figures got to do with it?" she asked. "I was talking about adding up a column of figures."

"I know what you mean," said Grandmother, gently. "That it is not only a matter of arithmetic."

"For instance, when you are married, you have to pay taxes," said Grandmother, gently.

The Young Married Woman, hopefully, said, "I know what you mean."

"But don't you see, dearie," said Grandmother, gently, "that it is not only a matter of arithmetic."

"Yes, I do," said the Young Married Woman, smiling.

"The same principle is involved in marriage," said Grandmother.

"I know how to add figures; I get them right every time," said the Young Married Woman.

"But that makes it so proxy and commonplace," objected the Young Married Woman.

"Not proxy and commonplace as quarrels and disagreements and set-

ments, in fact, if you go about it

in the right spirit, there is nothing

in the world like it," said Grandmother.

"But how can you know? There isn't a thing you can study. You have to learn by doing."

"Not exactly," said Grandmother.

"People who think so many young people make a mistake. They seem to think happiness in marriage is a sort of a lottery, like winning the

lottery or getting the crown jewel.

"But that makes it so proxy and commonplace," objected the Young

Married Woman.

"Not proxy and commonplace as

quarrels and disagreements and set-

ments, in fact, if you go about it

in the right spirit, there is nothing

in the world like it," said Grandmother.

"But how can you know? There

isn't a thing you can study. You

have to learn by doing."

"Not exactly," said Grandmother.

"People who think so many young people make a mistake. They seem to think happiness in marriage is a

sort of a lottery, like winning the

lottery or getting the crown jewel.

"But that makes it so proxy and

commonplace," objected the Young

Married Woman.

"Not proxy and commonplace as

quarrels and disagreements and set-

ments, in fact, if you go about it

in the right spirit, there is nothing

in the world like it," said Grandmother.

"But how can you know? There

isn't a thing you can study. You

have to learn by doing."

"Not exactly," said Grandmother.

"People who think so many young people make a mistake. They seem to think happiness in marriage is a

sort of a lottery, like winning the

lottery or getting the crown jewel.

"But that makes it so proxy and

commonplace," objected the Young

Married Woman.

"Not proxy and commonplace as

quarrels and disagreements and set-

ments, in fact, if you go about it

in the right spirit, there is nothing

in the world like it," said Grandmother.

"But how can you know? There

isn't a thing you can study. You

have to learn by doing."

"Not exactly," said Grandmother.

"People who think so many young people make a mistake. They seem to think happiness in marriage is a

sort of a lottery, like winning the

lottery or getting the crown jewel.

"But that makes it so proxy and

commonplace," objected the Young

Married Woman.

"Not proxy and commonplace as

quarrels and disagreements and set-

ments, in fact, if you go about it

in the right spirit, there is nothing

in the world like it," said Grandmother.

"But how can you know? There

isn't a thing you can study. You

have to learn by doing."

"Not exactly," said Grandmother.

"People who think so many young people make a mistake. They seem to think happiness in marriage is a

sort of a lottery, like winning the

lottery or getting the crown jewel.

"But that makes it so proxy and

commonplace," objected the Young

Married Woman.

"Not proxy and commonplace as

quarrels and disagreements and set-

ments, in fact, if you go about it

in the right spirit, there is nothing

in the world like it," said Grandmother.

"But how can you know? There

isn't a thing you can study. You

have to learn by doing."

"Not exactly," said Grandmother.

"People who think so many young people make a mistake. They seem to think happiness in marriage is a

sort of a lottery, like winning the

lottery or getting the crown jewel.

"But that makes it so proxy and

commonplace," objected the Young

Married Woman.

"Not proxy and commonplace as

quarrels and disagreements and set-

ments, in fact, if you go about it

in the right spirit, there is nothing

in the world like it," said Grandmother.

"But how can you know? There

isn't a thing you can study. You

have to learn by doing."

"Not exactly," said Grandmother.

"People who think so many young people make a mistake. They seem to think happiness in marriage is a

sort of a lottery, like winning the

lottery or getting the crown jewel.

"But that makes it so proxy and

commonplace," objected the Young

Married Woman.

"Not proxy and commonplace as

quarrels and disagreements and set-

ments, in fact, if you go about it

in the right spirit, there is nothing

in the world like it," said Grandmother.

"But how can you know? There

isn't a thing you can study. You

have to learn by doing."

"Not exactly," said Grandmother.

"People who think so many young people make a mistake. They seem to think happiness in marriage is a

sort of a lottery, like winning the

lottery or getting the crown jewel.

"But that makes it so proxy and

commonplace," objected the Young

Married Woman.

"Not proxy and commonplace as

quarrels and disagreements and set-

ments, in fact, if you go about it

in the right spirit, there is nothing

in the world like it," said Grandmother.

"But how can you know? There

isn't a thing you can study. You

have to learn by doing."

"Not exactly," said Grandmother.

"People who think so many young people make a mistake. They seem to think happiness in marriage is a

sort of a lottery, like winning the

lottery or getting the crown jewel.

"But that makes it so proxy and

commonplace," objected the Young

Married Woman.

"Not proxy and commonplace as

quarrels and disagreements and set-

ments, in fact, if you go about it

in the right spirit, there is nothing

in the world like it," said Grandmother.

"But how can you know? There

isn't a thing you can study. You

have to learn by doing."

"Not exactly," said Grandmother.

"People who think so many young people make a mistake. They seem to think happiness in marriage is a

sort of a lottery, like winning the

lottery or getting the crown jewel.

"But that makes it so proxy and

commonplace," objected the Young

Married Woman.

"Not proxy and commonplace as

quarrels and disagreements and set-

ments, in fact, if you go about it

in the right spirit, there is nothing

in the world like it," said Grandmother.

"But how can you know? There

isn't a thing you can study. You

have to learn by doing."

"Not exactly," said Grandmother.

"People who think so many young people make a mistake. They seem to think happiness in marriage is a

sort of a lottery, like winning the

lottery or getting the crown jewel.

"But that makes it so proxy and

commonplace," objected the Young

Married Woman.

"Not proxy and commonplace as

quarrels and disagreements and set-

ments, in fact, if you go about it

in the right spirit, there is nothing

in the world like it," said Grandmother.

"But how can you know? There

isn't a thing you can study. You

have to learn by doing."

"Not exactly," said Grandmother.

Climbers Beat London—Idlers Won From Western University—130,000 People at Soccer Game

Record Crowd Saw Saturday's Soccer Game Between Thistle-Rose

One Hundred and Thirty Thousand Saw England Defeated Three Goals to One.

In Old Country soccer circles Saturday was a day worth having lived for. It was a record day, not only alone for Hampden Park, Glasgow, but a world's record-breaking day. The record was set by the number of football fans who came to see the first football crowd ever. Until Saturday the record stood at 137,297. That has gone by the board, for no fewer than 130,000 passed through the turnstiles at Hampden, and thousands more had to be turned away. Glasgow, accustomed to "housing" big events of the kind, had never before seen anything like the excitement created by the arrival of her own confine. From England, Wales, Ireland, and from all over Scotland the soccer enthusiasts came in their tens of thousands, and even from the Continent. All this the most surprising, seeing that the question of championship was not down for settlement. Ireland had seen to that some time ago, and now no one need prove it again, for her first laurels. It was the genuine enthusiasm for the game that inspired the multitude, added to the spike given by keen rivalry. It was the 43rd meeting between the countries. Scotland prior to Saturday's game had 17 wins to her credit, and England 13.

Writing of the game itself, it was one going merrily along, with few misses. If only the spectators that much of excitement which makes the soccer enthusiast's life worth living. The Englishmen immediately set the pace with their forward kicking and rushing to the ball, and the ball went, and it was early seen as if the Scots were in for a rough time of it. Birrells and his full-backs, however, were not to be beaten, and held their own amidst it all until the Scottish halves got into their stride, and then the Englishmen changed. From a corner kick taken by the Scots' centre-half, secured possession of the ball, and without a second's hesitation sent it to the goal. The English citadel, Hardy had not a ghost of a chance to save. The cheers from hundreds of thousands of them that had been away. Very soon afterward it was the Englishmen's turn to raise their voices. The Scots counter-attacked, putting the fast, the fast, the representatives of the "Rose" going and once or twice the Scottish goal looked like tottering on its take. Then the Scots' centre-half, secured possession of the ball, and without a second's hesitation sent it to the goal. The English citadel, Hardy had not a ghost of a chance to save. The cheers from hundreds of thousands of them that had been away. Very soon afterward it was the Englishmen's turn to raise their voices.

The Scots counter-attacked, putting the fast, the fast, the representatives of the "Rose" going and once or twice the Scottish goal looked like tottering on its take. Then the Scots' centre-half, secured possession of the ball, and without a second's hesitation sent it to the goal. The English citadel, Hardy had not a ghost of a chance to save. The cheers from hundreds of thousands of them that had been away. Very soon afterward it was the Englishmen's turn to raise their voices.

After that, the English, always in a fast, fast, fast combination, the accurate swinging of the ball from comrade to comrade being delightful to watch, and the Englishmen could do little to stem the current of defeat which was rapidly about swamping them. The time and place of Pennington were a "Queen's" seat. Both did you see services nevertheless, and the Englishmen did their best to uphold the soccer dignity of the Sassenach throng, sometimes with almost superhuman strength, speed, and versatility. But the Englishmen were only human, and in the end the strain of continual battling against hard, strong, and determined full-backs, and the sharp and accurate play of the halves, told its tale, and the inevitable happened. McMenamy, the English captain, in his desire to grab to grasp opportunities is superb, seeing on an opening ten minutes after play had been resumed, and the English, Scotland, not very long afterwards, the same players capped as fine a combined run as was ever seen on that field, and was crowned by driving the ball with terrific force high up into the English net. From this stage until the finish the Englishmen were compelled to desperation to reduce the odds, but all in vain.

It was then lack of combination which helped to give their "Bannockburn." If speed and dash had counted for much then they must surely have triumphed. They were beaten, though, by the skill of the Scots, whose fine tackling and placing together with accurate passes to man play won for the "Rose." That the Englishmen were too unfair to single out for special comment individual players on the winning side, but, as we all know, McMenamy, Reid, and Croal were "stars" in the football firmament on a memorable day. Final score: England—Hardy (Aston), Crompton (Blackburn), Pennington (West Bromwich), Foden (Sheffield), McCall (Preston), McNeil (West Bromwich), Walden (Tottenham), Fleming (Swindon), Hampton, and Smith (Bolton). Total—13.

The line-up was as follows: Scotland—Brownlie (Third), Lanes, McNair and Dodds (Celtic), Gordon (Glasgow), Thompson (Sunderland), Hay (Newcastle), Donaldson (Bolton), Wadsworth, McMenamy (Celtic), Reid (Sheffield), Croal (Falkirk), Donachie (Glasgow).

England—Hardy (Aston), Crompton (Blackburn), Pennington (West Bromwich), Foden (Sheffield), McCall (Preston), McNeil (West Bromwich), Walden (Tottenham), Fleming (Swindon), Hampton, and Smith (Bolton). Total—13.

While the battle of the "Thistle" and the "Rose" was being fought out and dust and smoke were being raised in other parts of the old country, not the least surprising being the greeting of the English footballers to the English team of 5-0. Earlier in the week the same team met in the semi-final of the English cup they had been beaten, and London triumphed. Perhaps on Saturday the latter were reserving their energies for the final at the Crystal Palace, and were not too worried as those who follow a a football paper. A "Von Villa's" fall to Newcastle United was also unexpected and no less a shock was afforded by Derby County's win over Manchester United.

In the Second Division Notts County, ever since it seems to be the home of honours in session, in this class, upset calculations by going under to Barnsley. As the Southern League table shows, either Swindon or Crystal Palace may mean the championship for one of the other, for Swindon are only one point ahead with an equal number of games played.

Celtic, who had an off-day, remained the top team of the Scottish League chart by reason of the mid-week game, and there they are now likely to remain until the season is over.

The exacting task of the English League was the result, and league tables up to date are as follows:

Intermediate.

Scotland England

English League Division I.

Ashington Newcastle

Bolton Oldham

Brighton Manchester U.

Everton W. Bromwich

Fulham Birmingham

Middlesbrough Preston N. E.

Sheffield U. Burnley

Sunderland Sheffield U.

Tottenham West Ham U.

Watford W. Bromwich

Wolverhampton Birmingham

Yorks United Liverpool

Yorks United Middlesbrough

Yorks United Preston N. E.

Yorks United Sheff U.

Yorks United West Ham U.

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

Yorks United W. Bromwich

American Team Will Begin Practising

Polo Experts to Train at Lake in Commencing Tuesday.

(By Times Special Wire.)

New York, April 6.—Practise for the national polo matches will be on the Georgian court field at the R. & W. N.J., to-morrow afternoon. Major Monte Waterbury, the Hon. Robert, chairman of the Polo Association, rode over the field yesterday and decided that with no rain in sight, it will be fit for practise on Tuesday.

Officials are quite a few play-out yesterday limbering up and getting into trim for

of hard work. George Geor-geous, the saddle man, who is already at Lake

at the word to get into

Captain Waterbury, John

Rene LaMontague, James B.

McMahon, C. C. Rumsey and John Stevenson. Lar Waterbury,

Monte's brother, is expec-

tated to-day to announced

The Chicago Feds were out to see the organized ball folks, and the cour-tes of the park were extended to them.

Score:

Training Trip Games

At St. Louis.—The Browns came to town yesterday and easily defeated the Cards 5 to 3. On the third day of the city series, they beat the Perrys and Hoppers savagely in nearly every round. Score:

R. H. E.
Browns 01010311-8 16 4
Cardinals 10000000-1 5 2
Batteries—Baumgartner and Agnew; Perritt, Hopper and Snyder.

At New Orleans.—While the Giazas were whitewashing the home team, today while job did he a score of 5 to 1. The Cards, who were looking on, were there. They were Joe Tinker's Federals, who are due to play a semi-professional team here to-day. The Cards were out to see the organized ball folks, and the cour-tes of the park were extended to them.

Score:

R. H. E.
New Orleans 00000000-7 5 0
Cardinals 10000000-3 6 1
Batteries—Marguerat, Hearne and McLean; Bagby, Peddy and Higgins.

At Indianapolis.—The Cubs beat the Indians again to-day, making it two straight. The score was 5 to 2. Score:

White Sox 00000000-4 13
Chicago 00100101-3 5 1
Indians 10010000-3 6 1
Batteries—Cheney and Bremham; Burke, Harrington and McCarthy.

At Fort Worth, Texas.—The White Sox trounced Fort Worth Panthers by a score of 6 to 2. Score:

White Sox 00000000-4 13
Fort Worth 00000000-3 5 1
Batteries—Russell, Sleight and Schalk; Appleton, Mears and Jordan.

At Louisville.—The Detroit Tigers to-day defeated the Louisville Colonels 7 to 3. Three doubles, two singles, a home run and a walk-up hit in the ninth inning netted the Tigers four jolts before the contest was really started. Score:

R. H. E.
Detroit 00010200-7 11 0
Louisville 00000000-6 10 0
Batteries—McGinnis, J. D. Williams, Stanage and Baker; Leverette, B. D. and Clemens.

At Philadelphia.—Taking advantage of Ben Tincup's wildness, and bunching two singles and a double in the first inning, enabled the Athletics to beat the Cards 5 to 2. Score:

R. H. E.
Athletics 00000000-6 4 1
Philadelphia 00000000-5 0 0
Batteries—Brown, Hunt and Shawkey; Lang and Lamp; Schenck; Thompson, Matteson and Clemens.

At Philadelphia.—Taking advantage of Ben Tincup's wildness, and bunching two singles and a double in the first inning, enabled the Athletics to beat the Cards 5 to 2. Score:

R. H. E.
Athletics 00000000-6 4 1
Philadelphia 00000000-5 0 0
Batteries—Brown, Hunt and Shawkey; Lang and Lamp; Schenck; Thompson, Matteson and Clemens.

At New York.—Frank Chance's New York Giants triumphed over Brooklyn at Ethel's Field this afternoon, in the third game of the ante-season series, by a score of 6 to 3. Score:

R. H. E.
Giants 10000000-6 13 5
Brooklyn 00000000-5 0 0
Batteries—Kreting, Fisher and Sweeny; Wagner, Ragon and Miller; Stearns and Cahn.

At Washington.—The Newark International League Club defeated the Washington Yankees here, five to three, in a good exhibition game. The score:

R. H. E.
Washington 10000000-3 16 4
Newark 00000000-3 10 0
Batteries—Cahoon and Williams; Smith, Engman and Heckler.

At Cincinnati.—The Cincinnati Reds minus the services of their disgruntled outfielder, Armando Marsans, managed to wallop the Washington team, the second afternoons this afternoon, holding the Cincinnati to three scattered hits, in each of the first three rounds.

Score:

R. H. E.
Cincinnati 00000000-5 0 0
Washington 00000000-3 4 1
Batteries—Harrington and Senn; Clark, Shaw, Alcock and Ainsworth.

Sunday Games

WHITE SOX 8, DALLAS 4.
Dallas, Tex., April 5.—The White Sox beat the Cards 8 to 4 yesterday, winning four hits, one of which was a triple and one a two-bagger. Score:

R. H. E.
White Sox 1 2 0 2 0 0 2 0 3 8 1
Dallas 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 4 1
Batteries—Dobie, Davis and Stanhope; Northrop, Lemons and Seervold.

DETROIT 5, LOUISVILLE 0.
Louisville, Ky., April 5.—Tom Duhé for George Davis, pitching for the regular team of the Detroit Tigers, advanced his record to 5 to 0, when he clinched this afternoon, holding the Cincinnati to three scattered hits, in each of the first three rounds.

Score:

R. H. E.
Detroit 0 0 0 2 1 2 0 0 5 5 0
Louisville 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Batteries—Dobie, Davis and Stanhope; Northrop, Lemons and Seervold.

NEWARK BREATH ATHLETICS.
Newark, N. J., April 5.—The Indians defeated Newark here this afternoon, 4 to 3. Cold weather and a drizzle retarded snappy play. Schacht won the entire game for Newark. Score:

R. H. E.
Newark 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 3 2
Indians 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Batteries—Penneck, Dunning, Lapp and Lapp; Schacht and Heckman.

MEDINUS DEFEATED BROWNS.
Tulsa, Okla., April 5.—The Cardinals had a 3 to 1 lead thereby, when was 2 to 1, bunched him in the fourth, and won the game for a score of 5 to 3. Score:

R. H. E.
Medinus 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 3 2
Browns 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Batteries—Dobie, Davis and Stanhope; Northrop, Lemons and Seervold.

DETROIT 5, NEWARK 2.
Newark, N. J., April 5.—The Chicago Fed semi-professional team made it two straight from Newark, winning this afternoon's game to one.

Score:

R. H. E.
Detroit 0 0 0 2 1 2 0 0 5 5 0
Newark 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Batteries—Dobie, Davis and Stanhope; Northrop, Lemons and Seervold.

DETROIT REPORT APRIL 20TH.

Toronto Canadian League team reported on April 20th, for games arranged for May 1 and 2.

DETROIT 6, NEW ORLEANS 2.
Newark, N. J., April 5.—While the Indians were held to a 1 to 1 tie, the Chicago Fed semi-professional team, a new counter attraction, for a change, had a favorable of organized baseball, being an attendance of the Giants-New Orleans team, took another victory, after battle had it all the way to 800. Score:

R. H. E.
Detroit 10110000-6 10 3
New Orleans 00000000-2 7 1
Batteries—Meyer and Adams.

The measure of right-

the measure of right-</

Lawn Grass Seed

ENRICH your lawn at the right time and obtain the best results for your trouble.

That thick, green, velvety turf is produced by sowing our special lawn seed.

Dundurn Lawn Grass

One lb. 35c; 3 lbs. for $1.

Steele, Briggs' Fast Growing Mixture

Per lb. 25c.

Shade Mixtures

Special, prepared for shady places, per lb. 40c.

Lawn Fertilizer

FOR TOP DRESSING. Per lb. 5c; 25 lbs. $1. 100 lbs. $5.

Sheep Manure

5 lbs. 25c; 5 lbs. 75c; per 100 lbs. $2.

Steele, Briggs Seed Co., Limited

Market Square - Hamilton

Black Tan and White
Best for the Shoes

NO POLITICS IN THE ARMY

Says Premier Asquith to His Constituents.

PITT'S POLICY

Of Army Administration Still the Best.

London, April 5.—A brilliant spring day and notable scenes of enthusiasm at the election meetings opened yesterday by Right Hon. Mr. Asquith in the by-election campaign in East Fife, rendered necessary by his acceptance of the Secretariate for War. The meeting took place in the village assembly room, and was opened by the usual formalities, including the adoption of the Prime Minister as the Liberal candidate. Mr. Asquith, Mrs. Asquith and their daughter were given a round of applause.

Mr. James Scott, who preceded welcomed the Premier amid cheers as the greatest Parliamentarian they had known. Mr. Asquith returned thanks for his adoption as the Liberal candidate. He said it was a novel experience contesting a by-election, but they lived in strange times, and in no respect were they more strange than in the way in which credulity dogged the heels of invention, and invention strove and strayed in vain, to keep pace with credulity.

NO FLIGHT FROM FIGHT.

In the course of the last fortnight, continued the Prime Minister, they had the ridiculous legend circulated that the Government selected the very momentous occasion of the by-election to the by-election in East Fife, rendered necessary by his acceptance of the Secretariate for War. The meeting took place in the village assembly room, and was opened by the usual formalities, including the adoption of the Prime Minister as the Liberal candidate. Mr. Asquith, Mrs. Asquith and their daughter were given a round of applause.

They must see some process applied, with necessary variations, and applied to their own duty, to their duty to the United Kingdom, and in the conviction that such a reconstruction of constitutional organization would lead to greater security for the conduct of local and imperial interests. The quickened patrioticism of every party would stimulate the larger patriotism of the whole.

HOMER'S POLITICAL ENDORSEMENT.

On the eve of the last fortnight, continued the Prime Minister, they had the ridiculous legend circulated that the Government selected the very momentous occasion of the by-election to the by-election in East Fife, rendered necessary by his acceptance of the Secretariate for War for the purpose of escaping a fortnight of formidable ordeals, and was associated with the Opposition. He declared that instead of stealing away from the fight in disgrace, and by a devices, route, he had come to the by-election in a manly and frank manner and was met by expressions of welcome and hopes of good luck. (Cheers.) That was what they called a patriotic act.

Finally, in the comedy of errors, the Unionists of Fife were awaiting his speech to see if they would remain silent, and if they did, and if they strucken, they were to be kept on the tenterhook of suspense. Was there ever greater or more complete transformation? (Laughter.) He was submitting himself to the hazard and inconveniences of an election because it had become necessary for him to do so. What had brought him into the incidents connected with the change, he declared there had been genuine misinterpretations on both sides, but in his deliberate opinion there had been nothing at any stage or in any quarter which threatened the least possible co-operation of any of them immediately or directly concerned. (Cheers.)

A VOLUNTARY ARMY.

No one had better reason than he to know the zeal, devotion and duty of those who are serving in the military as well as the naval forces. The very fact that the army regard upon a voluntary and non-mandatory basis was the best safeguard for the maintenance of its spiritual, unshakable traditions of its record.

"I am certain," continued Mr. Asquith, "that it can be counted upon from the highest to the lowest rank of the army that the spirit pervading the military as well as the naval forces. The very fact that the army regard upon a voluntary and non-mandatory basis was the best safeguard for the maintenance of its spiritual, unshakable traditions of its record.

The buildings, which were of frame, were completely consumed. Mr. Roth estimates the loss at $5,000, with an insurance of $2,000. The coal shed and the office of John Barnes, which were burned with some coal. The loss amounts to $500, with no insurance. The water system was satisfactorily repaired and the firemen are deserving of much credit for their strenuous efforts under the circumstances. Had the tank exploded, the consequences would have been hard to imagine.

The buildings, which were of frame, were completely consumed. Mr. Roth estimates the loss at $5,000, with an insurance of $2,000. The coal shed and the office of John Barnes, which were burned with some coal. The loss amounts to $500, with no insurance. The water system was satisfactorily repaired and the firemen are deserving of much credit for their strenuous efforts under the circumstances. Had the tank exploded, the consequences would have been hard to imagine.

WILL NOT UNITE

Say Laborites, to Avoid Three-cornered Contest.

London, April 5.—The mild hint thrown out by Premier Asquith at East Fife on Saturday that the Radicab-Labourites were negotiating for some form of alliance with a view to securing the three-cornered contest has set the rank and file of the Laborites on edge, while a section of the Labor party led by G. N. Barnes, a well-known M.P., is asking for better terms. Speculation was rife last night, Barnes said Asquith was wrong in his assumption that the objective of the alliance was to be identical. It was also to be thought that Laborites could do the work of the Labor party, controlled, housed and funded, by the Radicab-Labourites. Asquith wished to avoid three-cornered contests the remedy was in his own hands, by the introduction of a second ballot, by which the Radicab-Labourites would be more three-cornered contestants in the future than in the past.

The burning buildings set fire to the car which the tank rested in, and as it was soon enveloped in flames, and as the valve was broken, the gasoline was set afire to admit air during the burning process, the gasoline took fire, and great flames shot high in the air, making a most terrible sight. The firemen then directed all their attention to the tank, and poured two heavy streams on the burning car. The spectators were shocked when, through the smoke and steam, Mr. Roth was

"I find the professor's statistics stupid." "I don't. He told me there were our hundred million people in the world, and that I was the prettiest girl in the lot."—Ragdale News.

the electors were left in the dark regarding the Government's intention to take up home rule. His supposed influence with Mr. Bonar Law, Mr. Asquith quoted the speech which he delivered at St. Andrew's on December 10, 1913, in which he was entirely satisfied with home rule. That and other speeches on the subject were a complete justification of the passage of the bill by the Parliament and the

SETTLE BY AGREEMENT.

"We believe that settlement by consent is in the interests of the country and of both great political parties," continued Mr. Asquith. "We believe in home rule do not desire to see the new system started under the most unfavorable conditions, and that would mean a loss of a large number of citizens.

To those who think home rule is a curse, we say that the Government of Ireland presents it if any misadventure now the hopes and expectations of four centuries of freedom will be dashed to the ground." (Cheers.)

Mr. Asquith recapitulated his temporary solution plan, and while admitting its disadvantages, said that it had great merit, at least, that it got rid of any question of coercion.

He gave a brief sketch of the immediate arbitration of the ballot. "I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

I am anxious for peace, and I say that for both sides, it must be peace with honor. The only agreement that is to come we must secure the placing of a home rule bill on the statute book, and that is incompatible with the present situation.

FREE GIFTS FOR CHEWING GUM WRAPPERS

Be sure you get
RED CROSS SPEARMINT OR
DR. KING'S PEPPERMINT PEPSIN GUMS

Look for the Capid on every Package.

Save the outer wrapper of each package and get the beautiful free gift—photographs, jewelry, watches, beautiful silk cushion-top, displaying the emblems of 30 Canadian Cities, and hundreds of other things, beautiful and useful—all free with the coupon-wrappers.

Get the Catalogue of handsome gift
at your store or write to us for one.
CANADIAN CHICKE CO. Limited Peterborough, Ont.

Made by Canadians in the most complete, up-to-date and cleanest factory of its kind in Canada.

MILITANT BOMB

Outrage by Suffragettes in Famous London Church.

Blackpool Work Girls Make
Some 'Gettes.'

London, April 6.—The premier of Newfoundland, stated by the wireless messages received on board the ship, was held away by the winter weather, but all before landing, conveying the news of the sealing disaster. Sir Horatio French, the admiral, had contemplated in Great Britain, Canada and United States for the sake of the sufferers.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

Stories of survivors are terrible in the extreme. They had to live in the snow all day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

The survivors were so exhausted from the two days' suffering that they died after being found, partly from the joy of recovery.

The rescue work continued throughout the day, and the last of those five were got ashore.

Society

Lady Gibson has issued cards of invitation for an "At Home" to be given at Government House Friday evening April 17th, from 9 to 12 o'clock.

Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson and party have arrived in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel H. Levy are soon from Chicago.

Mr. William Hendrie was in Toronto on Saturday with Mrs. Allen Case.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Washington are spending a week's vacation at Atlantic City.

Miss Morgan of Port Dover, is the guest of Mrs. Kitton, Herkimer street.

Mrs. W. J. Sharp, of Ottawa, is visiting Mrs. Edworthy, this city.

Miss Mary Davidson, of Toronto, is visiting Mrs. George Richwood, Markham street.

Miss Phyllis McKay, of Winnipeg, a much-revered visitor in town for the last few months, has returned to the west.

Mrs. George Dickson, Toronto, is giving a luncheon to the ladies of the Royal Canadian Women's Patriotic Association, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Adam Beck and Miss Marion are expected to arrive home in London this week after a year's absence in England.

Mrs. Henry Baby and her little son Jacques, are coming to Hamilton this week to spend the Easter holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Baby.

Their Royal Highnesses, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught have extended their patronage to the Ottawa Horse Show, which will be held from May 12 to 16.

Captain Rivers-Bullock and Mrs. Rivers-Bullock (Phyllis) sailed on Saturday for Canada to rejoin the Governor-General's household at Ottawa.

The regular meeting of St. Elizabeth Chapter, I.O.D.E., will be held at the home of Mrs. Morley Eager, 178 Main Street, on Tuesday afternoon, April 8, at 2.30 p.m. As there is important business to come up, a full attendance of the members is requested.

The regular meeting of Maple Leaf Y.W.C.A. (W.T.C.A.) will be held in the room of the president, Mrs. Gordon Murray, 51 Madison avenue, on Friday evening, Mrs. Wm. Clunas, chairman of the program committee, superintend, will be the speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Douglas Brathwaite, of Montreal, formerly of this city, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Mary Hendrie, to Mr. John Patterson, of St. George's Church, Montreal, on Saturday, April 18th, at four o'clock, and a reception afterwards at 5 o'clock at the home of the bridegroom, attended by her sister, Miss Dorothy Brathwaite, Miss Gwyneth Wanless, Miss Mary Hunter, Miss Dorothy Egan, Miss Margaret Hay, of Toronto. The best man will be Mr. Gregor Barclay, and the usher will be Mr. Campbell Stuart, Mr. Davidson Parker and Mr. Roberton Fleet.

RECEPTIONS.
Mrs. J. J. Smith, Delaware avenue, will not receive again this season.

Mr. (Dr.) W. B. Hopkins will receive to-morrow and not again this season.

Mrs. C. B. Linton and Mrs. Forsyth, 47 Robinson street, will not receive to-morrow again this season.

Mrs. Andrew Ross, 61 Victoria avenue north, will not receive to-morrow again this season.

Mrs. W. F. Longfield will not receive Tuesday or again this season.

ANCASTER GOLDEN WEDDING.
A golden wedding took place in Ancaster on Friday evening, April 3rd. When all the immediate relations of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilber joined with them in celebrating the happy occasion, the dinner was adjourned to the dining-room where a bountiful repast was spread, the room being filled with beauty, perfume, tulips and daffodils. The tea room was presided over by Mrs. Wm. Walls, of Hamilton, eldest granddaughter of a man who emigrated to America, Sager, and Misses Grace Wilbur, Lydia Wilbur and Lillian Cox, of Hamilton. The highly esteemed couple were the recipients of many costly presents, including a silver tea service and purse of gold. One feature of the evening was the presentation of a gift to be sent to help with their esteemed grandparents every happiness. Mr. Wlio and Mr. Old Willber are the only two sons of the deceased parents.

There are eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, two being married. Mr. Wm. and Mrs. Old Willber are the parents of Mr. Wilbur, both of Hamilton, and all being present. Rev. Canon and Mrs. C. E. Bell, of St. John's, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bell, with the happy couple, also Mr. and Mrs. Polson, Mrs. Thos. Anderson, Mrs. and Miss Wheeler, Mr. Burnett, and Misses Anna, Ethel and Mabel, were included in the gathering.

At 6.15 o'clock the happy couple were in their room, and at 6.45 the door was opened and the happy couple were seen to be in the room. There were eight, grandchildern and three great-grandchildren, two being married. Mr. Wm. and Mrs. Old Willber are the parents of Mr. Wilbur, both of Hamilton, and all being present. Rev. Canon and Mrs. C. E. Bell, of St. John's, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bell, with the happy couple, also Mr. and Mrs. Polson, Mrs. Thos. Anderson, Mrs. and Miss Wheeler, Mr. Burnett, and Misses Anna, Ethel and Mabel, were included in the gathering.

At 6.45 the happy couple were ready for the wedding. They were dressed in white, and the bride was wearing a white dress with a lace collar and a lace hem. The groom was wearing a white suit with a white shirt and a white tie. They were standing in front of a large window, looking out onto the street. The bride was holding a bouquet of flowers, and the groom was holding a bunch of flowers. They were smiling and laughing. The wedding ceremony was performed by a minister, and the couple exchanged rings. After the ceremony, they were given a bouquet of flowers by the minister. They then proceeded to the reception, where they were greeted by their friends and family. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, and it was a very happy occasion.

NOTICE

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Hamilton intends to construct the following works as local improvements, and intends to specially assess a part of the cost upon the land abutting directly on the work:

On Saturday afternoon a quiet field was solemnized in Christ's Church Cathedral, Very Rev. Dean Abbott officiating, when Miss Sarah L. Smith, (continued on page 12)

TWO HUNDRED ORIENTAL RUGS.

Do not miss the magnificent collection of over 200 Oriental rugs, comprising the finest Kerman, Kashan, Sarouk, Royal, Serapi, Ghoravan, Keshan, Kazan, Anatolian, the finest collection of Oriental rugs ever shown in the city of Hamilton.

These will be sold by public auction at Bowerman's auction room, 40 James Street, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY afternoons, commencing each day at 2.30 p.m. Every one of these rugs is guaranteed to be genuine hand-woven, and the best specimens of Oriental hand looms. Come and inspect for yourself, and keep in mind this great sale.

TEA TABLE GOSSIP

—On motion of E. H. Cleaver this morning Judge Monk granted permission to remove the suit of Jacob Taber, of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., on the usual terms.

Judge Sulter this morning gave judgment in Dominion Bank vs. County of Hamilton. Briefly, the said county can't sit tight. His honor awarded the plaintiff $481.92 with interest from March, 1913, and costs.

—Do you keep hens? If so spend a quarter at Cloke's Bookshop for a copy of "How to Keep Poultry," by H. Jacob, Special character of Poultry, Castrating, Diseases, Poultry Houses, Breeding for Eggs, and how to keep Eggs Fresh, and important topics.

The MAN IN OVERALLS

To-morrow week the Hon. Geo. P. Graham will be banqueted by the Hamilton Liberal Club. Tickets are now on sale. Grand speech expected.

Whatever it is, believe that Mr. Graham will tell the truth about it. He will put up no doubt.

Now is the time to plan your parades for the summer. No better amusement.

Try to get all the sleep you can while Lent lasts. The social whirl will soon be here again.

Expectation on the sidewalks still goes on.

Barton street merchants want the best in the way of light. They should be pleased.

Now once more, when is the John street station to be finished. Anybody know?

The bulbs in the public parks are pushing their noses up above ground. Later they will make a show worth seeing.

The John Patterson memorial is apparently being delayed on the way.

The government wall might also be brightened up with ornamental standards for Hydro-Electric light.

I wonder if the Duke of Connaught is not where the Duke gets when he is not at the races. He can buy his temperature.

Order your hats soon now and avoid the rush later on.

The George Shaw will be another fashionable function to think about.

Why should rubber boots be charged on to cement sidewalks?

I take it that the boy won't move if he is not a military affair, is it?

The next train will be for the coy to move down to the Beach.

A word to the wise. Secure your T-100 Club banner tickets at the Times business office.

REPLIED TO EDITOR

MORALITY IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN PARTY POLITICS.

Before beginning his sermon in First Methodist Church last evening Rev. C. O. Johnstone made a frank admission that he had been critical of him in a city paper (the Standard) of last Monday. He said that he had no fault to find with newspapermen personally; "He owed a good deal more to them than they did to him, but no paper was justified in impugning political motives to him. It is the duty of the press to inquire whether certain political acts in question were morally right or wrong, and deal with the question fairly from a moral standpoint (he, Mr. Johnstone) would say that he got an opportunity to do just that." He said that he hoped the time would come when all good men would be on the side of justice and truth. He said that he would hold himself free to decide in favor of any public man who brought forward a great moral principle, and that he believed the men would stand in that position.

NOT AN OPTICAL EXPERIMENT.

The quality of our goods, the accuracy of our methods of examining the eyes for glasses are what make Tait Optical a success.

Mr. John Tait, owner of Tait Optical, 46 James street north, maintains their own factory.

MAY MAKE ARREST

In Connection With Mix-up Over Furniture.

Sensational developments are anticipated in connection with a furniture deal between Mrs. Shawcross, Sherman avenue north, and Goldberger Furniture Company. It is alleged that Mrs. Shawcross secured furniture from the Goldberger Company and did not pay for it. The result was that a law suit was brought against the furniture company, and the Goldberger Company was compelled to sue for the furniture and took back its goods. As an attorney the law firm disappeared. The law office is acting for the Goldberg law firm, and it is expected that this morning that someone would probably be arrested before the matter was finally disposed of.

YOU OUGHT TO BUY SOCIETY BRAND.

They are young men's clothes ready to wear, of the higher type, better than any other. But then because of their value, they are not worn by any other.

Buy them because of their suggestions of dignity and youthfulness, and come to our outlet, 188 Spadina Avenue, Etobicoke.

Or all the self-made men Noah was ready the first who could truthfully say he was the ark-ite of his own fortune.

NOTICE

They are young men's clothes ready to wear, of the higher type, better than any other. But then because of their value, they are not worn by any other.

Buy them because of their suggestions of dignity and youthfulness, and come to our outlet, 188 Spadina Avenue, Etobicoke.

Or all the self-made men Noah was ready the first who could truthfully say he was the ark-ite of his own fortune.

NOTICE

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Hamilton in the course of their deliberations

will be called to order on

Wednesday, April 15th, at 7.30 p.m.

at the Council Chamber, 4th floor, City Hall, Hamilton.

At my SALES ROOMS, 40-42 James (South).

Where the goods will be on exhibition on TUESDAY morning.

Our commissioners of Hamilton should not fail to see this magnificient collection, as every rug is guaranteed to be genuine hand-made and the best productions of the Oriental hand.

W. BOWERMAN, Auctioneer

EXTRAORDINARY EXHIBITION AND AUCTION SALE

Of a magnificent collection of over

200 pieces of genuine and high-grade

Oriental Rugs

Comprising exquisite specimens of KERMANSHAH, SAROUK, ROYAL BOUKHARA, SERAPI, GHOROVAN, KESHAN, KAZAN, ANATOLIAN, BERGAMA, SHIRAZ, etc. Rugs and Carpets, including some valuable SILK PALACE RUGS, making altogether the finest collection of genuine Eastern Rugs ever shown in Hamilton.

This is a special collection direct from Persia and will be sold by Public Auction on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, April 7th and 8th, commencing at 2.30 p.m. each day.

At my SALES ROOMS, 40-42 James (South).

Where the goods will be on exhibition on TUESDAY morning.

Our commissioners of Hamilton should not fail to see this magnificient collection, as every rug is guaranteed to be genuine hand-made and the best productions of the Oriental hand.

W. BOWERMAN, Auctioneer

OUR SERVICES AS CUSTODIANS AND TRUSTEES

IN THE MANAGEMENT OF YOUR PROPERTY

The collection of rentals and other details to be carried out during your illness or absence from the city may be obtained at small cost to you, and with the assurance that your wishes will be complied with exactly as you desire. Information for the asking.

MERCANTILE TRUST CO. OF CANADA

BANK OF HAMILTON BUILDING

NOTICE

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Hamilton in

the course of their deliberations

will be called to order on

Wednesday, April 15th, at 7.30 p.m.

at the Council Chamber, 4th floor, City Hall, Hamilton.

These will be sold by public auction

at Bowerman's auction room, 40

James Street, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

afternoons, commencing each day at 2.30 p.m. Every one of these

rugs is guaranteed to be genuine

hand-woven, and the best specimens

of Oriental hand looms. Come and inspect for yourself, and keep in mind this great sale.

NOTICE

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Hamilton in

the course of their deliberations

will be called to order on

Wednesday, April 15th, at 7.30 p.m.

at the Council Chamber, 4th floor, City Hall, Hamilton.

These will be sold by public auction

at Bowerman's auction room, 40

James Street, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

afternoons, commencing each day at 2.30 p.m. Every one of these

rugs is guaranteed to be genuine

hand-woven, and the best specimens

of Oriental hand looms. Come and inspect for yourself, and keep in mind

this great sale.

NOTICE

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Hamilton in

the course of their deliberations

will be called to order on

Wednesday, April 15th, at 7.30 p.m.

at the Council Chamber, 4th floor, City Hall, Hamilton.

These will be sold by public auction

at Bowerman's auction room, 40

James Street, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

afternoons, commencing each day at 2.30 p.m. Every one of these

rugs is guaranteed to be genuine

hand-woven, and the best specimens

of Oriental hand looms. Come and inspect for yourself, and keep in mind

this great sale.

NOTICE

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Hamilton in

the course of their deliberations

will be called to order on

Wednesday, April 15th, at 7.30 p.m.

at the Council Chamber, 4th floor, City Hall, Hamilton.

These will be sold by public auction

at Bowerman's auction room, 40

James Street, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

afternoons, commencing each day at 2.30 p.m. Every one of these

rugs is guaranteed to be genuine

hand-woven, and the best specimens

of Oriental hand looms. Come and inspect for yourself, and keep in mind

this great sale.

NOTICE

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Hamilton in

the course of their deliberations

will be called to order on

Wednesday, April 15th, at 7.30 p.m.

at the Council Chamber, 4th floor, City Hall, Hamilton.

These will be sold by public auction

at Bowerman's auction room, 40

James Street, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

afternoons, commencing each day at 2.30 p.m. Every one of these

rugs is guaranteed to be genuine

hand-woven, and the best specimens

of Oriental hand looms. Come and inspect for yourself, and keep in mind

this great sale.

NOTICE

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Hamilton in

the course of their deliberations

will be called to order on

Wednesday, April 15th, at 7.30 p.m.

at the Council Chamber, 4th floor, City Hall, Hamilton.

These will be sold by public auction

at Bowerman's auction room, 40

James Street, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

afternoons, commencing each day at 2.30 p.m. Every one of these

rugs is guaranteed to be genuine

hand-woven, and the best specimens

of Oriental hand looms. Come and inspect for yourself, and keep in mind

this great sale.

NOTICE

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Hamilton in

the course of their deliberations

will be called to order on

Wednesday, April 15th, at 7.30 p.m.

at the Council Chamber, 4th floor, City Hall, Hamilton.

These will be sold by public auction

at Bowerman's auction room, 40

James Street, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

afternoons, commencing each day at 2.30 p.m. Every one of these

rugs is guaranteed to be genuine

hand-woven, and the best specimens

of Oriental hand looms. Come and inspect for yourself, and keep in mind

this great sale.

NOTICE

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Hamilton in

the course of their deliberations

will be called to order on

Wednesday, April 15th, at 7.30 p.m.

at the Council Chamber, 4th floor, City Hall, Hamilton.

These will be sold by public auction

at Bowerman's auction room, 40

James Street, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

afternoons, commencing each day at 2.30 p.m. Every one of these

rugs is guaranteed to be genuine

hand-woven, and the best specimens